

Need inspiration for your Valentine's campaigns?

— Follow us, it's this way! —

— ❧ Battle ❧ —

Use randomly selected battles to get your communities to choose between two options: most romantic couples, dream gift for your sweetheart, cartoon couples, dream getaways...

— ❧ Personality test ❧ —

Create personality tests based on: « What type of Valentine are you? », enabling you to then push different advice and/or products based on each participant's result.

Question planning

Use a functionality that we don't always think about: question planning. In our example, the same question is planned each day, but the photo file inserted in the question is different each time; the couple is slowly revealed.

Memory

Create a memory game adapted to your brand universe: have participants find a gift for her and its equivalent for him, matching perfumes for men and women, celebrity couples, romantic vacation spots and the flag for the country they're in...

✧ Landing page ✧

Create one landing page for women and another for men, in order to showcase your products more easily.

✧ Writing contest ✧

Take the opportunity to offer gifts that have a link with your brand. Collect data regarding your participant's preferences: ask them in the entry form which one(s) of the gifts they wish to receive if they win.

— ❧ Poll & Vote ❧ —

Make Valentine's Day part of your company's social responsibility strategy. Create virality and traffic by using a vote campaign to collect donations for projects that are dear to your heart!

Guess the word

Use a mystery word with a romantic theme to get your communities buzzing!

Coming soon

"IF BE THE FOOD OF LOVE, PLAY ON"
by Shakespeare

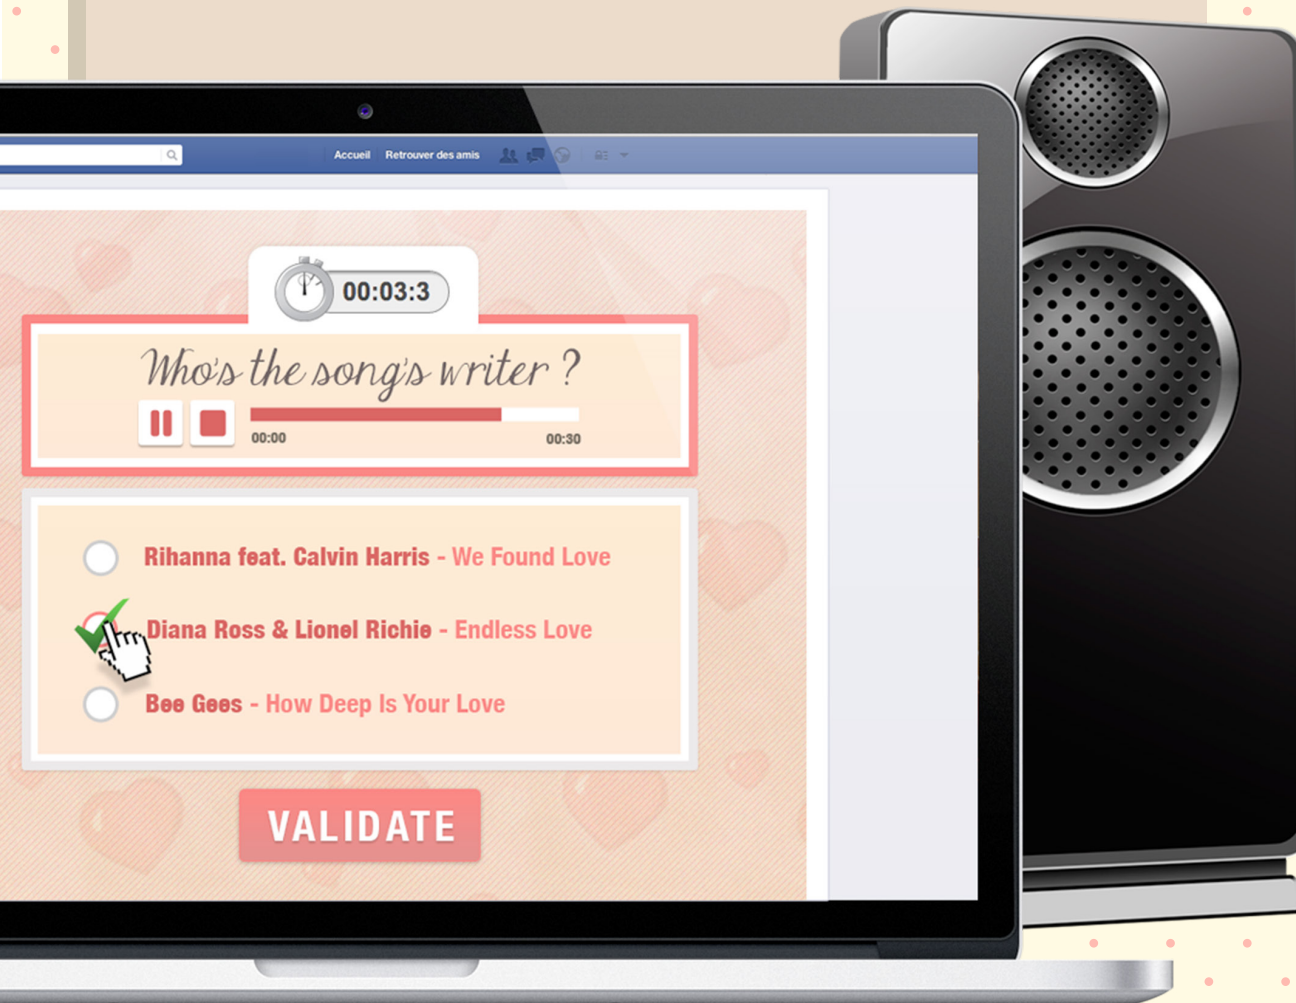

Valentine's calendar

Use the Advent calendar as a template to create surprise & bring participants back for more.

Timed musical quiz

Create musical quizzes of the « Blind test » type, with a love theme. You can plan the questions randomly, so that participants discover new songs each time they participate.

Survey

A short survey can show you the general trends and spark debate on your channels !
